

DATA USE AGREEMENT

Marine Conservation Philippines (MCP) allows NAME OF DATA USER the use of its ecological monitoring data under the following conditions;

Without exception, MCP must be duly referenced as the source and owner of the data when used. This include whether for university work, thesis report, phd, conference abstracts, conference presentations, blogs, articles, books or other written publications, as well as any other public use. The exact citation or reference style shall depend on the nature of the published material, however written material must include either the website URL www.marineconservationphilippines.org or have it imbedded as a hyperlink if the media is intended to be read online.

The DATA USER agrees to sharing a copy of the final work with MCP.

The DATA USER agrees to inform MCP and provide a copy of the work ahead of time to be reviewed first by MCP's science team and ensure that the work is aligned with its general policies. Marine Conservation Philippines has the right to request changes or completely retract the use of its data if it is represented incorrectly or is deemed harmful to the NGO's image or quality standards.

If the use of MCP's data constitutes 25% or more of all the data used in DATA USER's work, MCP reserves the right to request and be granted co-authorship.

Finally, the DATA USER agrees to never share MCP's raw data to anyone else without MCP's prior authorization.

DATA USER agrees to every condition stated above and understands this contract is legally binding, and that legal actions may be taken if this contractual agreement is not adhered to.
